

Grades 0-1 | March - May 2020 Workshops

16.30 – 18.00The World is a Playground (Adina Maiorescu)

Can you imagine Dali, Picasso, G. Klimt, Andy Warhol, Keith Haring or Henri Matisse illustrating some of your own favourite stories? If so, you must be an artist. Each class is dedicated to one of these artists. Enrich your vocabulary and find out how to illustrate a story inspired by a famous modern artist or illustrator. Our story dice may come in handy in the process. Let's roll the dice to create new stories and act out to improve our linguistic skills and confidence. Tell your story and immerse yourself in a world of fairy tales!

16.30 – 18.00Wow Lab Science Experiments (Elisabeta Petrescu)

Do you want to explore the world around you? Then this is the workshop for you! Learn about the chemistry in everyday life, from vinegar and baking soda, soap and balm, to food and nutrition! All by having fun and experimenting in the lab yourself.

18.15 – 19.45Pet Superheroes (Oana Costache)

Did you know that our furry friends' abilities can become actual superpowers? Through fun and games, we will learn how to communicate with therapy dogs and how to decipher cats' body language. Discover how to become our pets' best friends through positive reinforcement, all while speaking English.

Grades 2-4 | March - May 2020 Workshops

16.30 – 18.00

Me, Myself and the World 3 (Alexandra Mircea)

Who am I? What is a community? Let's explore our strong points and weaknesses and the relationships we create with those around us. Let's find out what teams and communities are, explore cultural differences and the great world surrounding us. This experiential workshop encourages English communication, teamwork and personal development. This is suitable for both former and new students. Join the team!

16.30 – 18.00

Pet Superheroes (Oana Costache)

Did you know that our furry friends' abilities can become actual superpowers? Through fun and games, we will learn how to communicate with therapy dogs and how to decipher cats' body language. Discover how to become our pets' best friends through positive reinforcement, all while speaking English.

18.15 – 19.45

The World is a Playground (Adina Maiorescu)

Are you feeling a bit under the weather today? If so, why don't you join a stimulating and collaborative study environment with original ways of learning? You will be over the moon with funny and playful associations. You will enrich your vocabulary with a collection of idioms. Play with the literal illustrations of idioms and draw them just like a modern artist would do. Can you imagine Dali, Picasso, G. Klimt, Andy Warhol, Keith Haring or Henri Matisse illustrating some of your own favourite idioms? Each class is dedicated to one of these artists. Enrich your culture, find out what motivates each modern artist and what makes them famous. We will debate over artists and art topics. Our debates will certainly create a storm in a teacup. Join our debate teams to make your voice heard and sound British!

18.15 – 19.45

Wow Lab Science Experiments (Cătălina Moale)

Do you want to explore the world around you? Then this is the workshop for you! Learn about the chemistry in everyday life, from vinegar and baking soda, soap and balm, to food and nutrition! All by having fun and experimenting in the lab yourself.

Grades 5-6 | March - May 2020 Workshops

16.30 – 18.00

Improvised Stories (Monica Anastase)

Free your imagination, become an active listener, be present, play! Improv theatre is one of the best ways to develop yourself. You could play dozens of characters in a single show. You just need a little bit of imagination and some courage. This workshop will improve your confidence, teamwork and English communication.

16.30 – 18.00

Entrepreneurship: The Innovators' Club (Andrei Nacea)

"When you start training your child to have an entrepreneur's mind, you build up their creativity and make sure they never lose their innate creative ability." This workshop will help the young ones learn how to set goals, how to confidently follow these goals and how to learn from past mistakes.

16.30 – 18.00

Wow Lab Science Experiments (Cătălina Moale)

Do you want to explore the world around you? Then this is the workshop for you! Learn about the chemistry in everyday life, from vinegar and baking soda, soap and balm, to food and nutrition! All by having fun and experimenting in the lab yourself.

18.15 – 19.45

Public Speaking 2 (Alexandra Mircea)

Oratory is an ancient art however it is more important than ever before! This public speaking workshop will help you express your ideas in a confident manner, build arguments to communicate your opinions and communicate with ease in English. We will gain these abilities through games and English speeches. Speak up!

18.15 – 19.45

3D Modelling with SketchUp (Mircea Lungu)

Have you ever wished to see your ideas come to life on a computer's screen? Join this workshop for a step-by-step lesson on how to build your very own 3D model. We will be talking you through the ways of SketchUp Free. All you got to do is bring your laptop and your inspiration!

Grades 7-8 | March - May 2020 Workshops

16.30 – 18.00

KALTA: Mind Your Future (Ana Georgescu and Florentina Coceanu)

Knowledge, Attitude, Learning – let's TAlk about them! What do you want to be when you grow up? How do you want to get there? This workshop will offer tips on how to ace your interviews, assess the job market and gain leadership abilities, while having fun and making friends.

16.30 – 18.00

3D Modelling with SketchUp (Mircea Lungu)

Have you ever wished to see your ideas come to life on a computer's screen? Join this workshop for a step-by-step lesson on how to build your very own 3D model. We will be talking you through the ways of SketchUp Free. All you got to do is bring your laptop and your inspiration!

18.15 – 19.45

Interpersonal Communication and Presentation Skills (Andrei Nacea)

"Good communication is a habit, and it needs to start young". Following this workshop, you will be able to easily initiate and keep a conversation going. You will be able to learn to express your feelings and ideas clearly and how to get over the fear of speaking in front of an audience. Furthermore, you will be able to develop your English speaking skills, too!

18.15 – 19.45

The Journey of Money (Cătălina Murariu)

How does money work? How can I know if I invest in things that matter? How can I best use my money? Join our workshop in order to learn about finances, how they work and how we can avoid the consequences these might involve.

Grades 9-12 | March - May 2020 Workshops

16.30 – 18.00

Our Stories Move the World (Andrei Stupu)

How do we integrate stories in our lives? How do we understand their usefulness or, on the contrary, their ability to manipulate us? Young people need to understand that storytelling is not a method used by novelist in order to get a Nobel Prize, but a huge mechanism that moves an entire world and industries of billions. History, neuroscience and marketing are the main fields that try either to create or to analyse stories.

18.15 – 19.45

Let's Talk Money (Adrian Căruțeru)

This workshop aims at familiarising young people with what personal finances involve. They will be able to study the main principles of financial education in order to become more financially responsible. The method used to deliver the lessons will be edutainment, a combination of entertainment with education.